Proactive Oracle E-Business Health Checks

A SPL Oracle Health Check is an opportunity to maximise the benefit of your Oracle E-Business Suite solution. By validating what you have and identifying what can be improved, whether that be new functionality, opportunities to streamline processes, performance improvement, security hardening or efficiency saving.

SPL provides individualised health checks across the entire E-Business Suite to ensure systems are fit for purpose and optimised to their most effective configuration. This allows customers to derive a greater return on investment from their IT systems and ensures they can concentrate on their core business function.

SPL consultants are given the freedom to deliver. This means that when performing activities such as health checks they can use their skills, experience, and initiative to deliver a comprehensive health check tuned to the customer's requirements. This is done independently of any business development activities, ensuring there is no pressure on the consultant to deliver a health check that supports sales activities.

SPL consultants are all senior consultants with 20+ years' experience, many have experience as users of the very applications that they now support. Our consultants have the expertise to perform an in-depth and thorough health check with a high degree of understanding as to the demands placed upon the customers IT systems.

A SPL Health Check is a baseline of your current solution and an opportunity to identify and unlock potential.

Our Health Checks are:

- About listening and understanding. To reflect on pain points and system limitations as you perceive them.
- An opportunity to inspire and to be inspired. To share aspirations, and to learn about new functionality available to you today. It is also a chance for the experienced SPL consultants to share their best practice knowledge with you.
- A comprehensive review of system "health".
- To check the basics and validate assumptions
- To verify code lines and supported versions, and to identify prospective patching
- To highlight problem areas for intervention
- To explore areas for performance gains, tuning and efficiencies

Our EBS Health Checks provide organizations the chance to leverage SPL's vast Oracle experience and use it to get the most out of their systems.
